What Teachers Want

During the past eight years in her role as an ICT and Learning Facilitator, Lyn is often asked to provide answers to these questions:

- What do I need to learn and why?
- What are some good software programmes and what can I do with them?
- What are some good ways to use the Internet?
- What is thinking and how do I teach it?

However, the question asked the most often is:

What are some easy, practical and achievable ideas for using ICTs with my students
